WORLD'S

Greatest Congress Will Assemble at Montreal Early Next Month.

Its Object Is to Promote Devotion to Sacrament of Eucharist.

More Than Six Score Bishops Have Promised to Be Present.

OPEN AIR MASS AND PROCESSION

Many of the ablest churchmen of the age will gather at Montreal to take part in the Eucharistic Congress which will open on September 6 and conclude on September 11. The opening feature will be the solemn reception at the Cathedral of Cardinal Vannutelli, the Papal Legate, and the closing functions will be the solemn procession and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Thus far 123 Bishops have signified their intention of attending. Besides there will be thousands of priests and laymen and women. It promises to be the most noted congress ever held in honor of the holy sacrament of the Eucharist.

During the week addresses on subjects dealing with devotion to the blessed sacrament will be made in English, French and Latin. Among those who will speak will be Cardinal Vannutelli, the Papal Legate; Bishop Clancy, of Sligo, Ireland; the Rev. Bernard Vaughan, S. J., of London, England; the Rev. Arthur Letellier, of the Blessed Sacrament Fathers; the Rev. Richard Neaglio, P. R., of Malden, Mass.; Bishop MacDonald, of Victoria, British Columbia; the Rev. William J. Finn, C. S. P., of Chicago; Rev. Thomas J. Campbell, S. J., of New York City; the Rev. John Cavanaugh, President of Notre Dame College; the Rev. L. Lambert, of Scottsville, N. Y.; the Rev. Alexander P. Doyle, C. S. P., of Washington, D. C.; Mother Loyola, of York, England; Miss Laddier, of Montreal; Archbishop Henon, of St. Louis, and Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston.

In addition to the ecclesiastical services each day there will be social meetings for the clergy, for lay men, for lay women and for children. On Friday evening, September 9, a public reception will be tendered the Cardinal Legate and Archbishop Burchell. On Friday morning a Pontifical mass will be celebrated in the open air. Archbishop O'Connell will preach the sermon. This mass in the open air, on the slope of Mount Royal, beautiful at all times, but in September outdoing itself in natural splendor as the green of summer and autumn gold meet for a while and linger together, will be a preparation worthy of Sunday's procession.

Catholic societies all over Canada and from many points in the United States will send representative laymen to take part in that grand procession. Gov. Pothier, of Rhode Island, and his staff will be among those who will march four miles as guards to the Blessed Sacrament.

An immense baldachin or monument in the form of an immense canopy is being erected at Parc Manse, where benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be given. This monument will be made of stucco, will be 100 feet high and will be supported by eight columns of two feet eight inches in diameter. The four facades will be artistic, and will represent the monogram and the various Eucharistic symbols. The ornaments will be in stucco and gold. From the center will depend hangings of velvet fringed with gold. The Eucharistic Congress will be the chief event in Catholic circles during the present year. It will be the most august assembly of the year in any country. It will settle no disputed arguments, but its every moment will be spent in furthering devotion to our Lord and Saviour in the blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

John Duddy, the veteran expressman, who was seriously injured when a runaway team collided with his wagon at Twenty-sixth and Bismark streets on Monday evening, is resting as comfortably as could be expected, but is not yet out of danger. On the day following the accident it was found necessary to remove him to St. Joseph's infirmary. His daughter, Mrs. John Henahan, and her two small children were in the wagon with Mr. Duddy when the accident occurred. Fortunately they escaped with a few slight scratches and bruises. Mr. Duddy is one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of the West End, and his speedy recovery is heartily wished for.

FOR ST. LEO'S CHURCH.

During vacation an addition to St. Leo's school building, Highland Park, has been erected. This necessary addition has doubled the capacity of the school, thereby giving more comfort and convenience to the Sisters and pupils. The Town Board of Highland Park has offered granite sidewalks, which will be an additional heavy expense after building the school addition. To help the pastor, the Rev. Father John J.

Fitzgerald, meet these obligations the ladies of the congregation have arranged to give a euchre with refreshments in the school house on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, September 1, to which the general public is invited.

DEATH'S HAND

Laid on Richard B. Bannan, Member of Popular Family.

The large attendance at the funeral of Richard B. Bannan on Tuesday morning was a testimony in some degree of the esteem in which the deceased was held. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart by the Rev. Father Patrick Walsh, assisted by the Rev. Fathers C. P. Raffo and P. M. J. Rock. Father Rock preached the funeral sermon, and while his remarks were mainly an admonition to the living, he did not fail to pay tribute to the character and worth of the deceased. Father Rock had known him from childhood, and was eminently qualified to speak of his life.

Mr. Bannan died at St. Anthony's Hospital last Saturday. Death followed an attack of Bright's disease. He was the son of the late Patrick Bannan and was born in Louisville nearly forty-four years ago. He was educated at St. Xavier's College in Louisville and St. Joseph's College, Bardonia. After leaving college he became associated with his father and brothers, M. Jeff Bannan and Patrick Bannan. At the time of his death Mr. Bannan was a director in the P. Bannan Sewer Pipe Company and in the Kentucky Vitified Brick Company. He is survived by his wife, who previous to her marriage was Miss Mattie Pickering, and six children. The children are Misses Louella and Alma Bannan, and Sherley, Homer, Carter and Richard Bannan, Jr. Three sisters also survive. They are Mesdames Lillie Hardesty, Robert Burrell and Edward O'Connor.

Dick Bannan as boy and man made friends of all of those he came in contact with. He was quiet and unassuming in his manner, and his untimely death is regretted by a large circle of friends.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Heard Reports on Business Both Old and New.

Mackin Council met Monday night with a big attendance and much amusement. John T. Kenney, the President, occupied the chair. Great interest was evinced in the reports of the delegates to the Grand Council, which met at Bellevue last week. It was announced that a team from Mackin Council would go to Owensboro on September 11 to debate with a team from Santo County. Many of Mackin's members will accompany the debating team to the scene of combat.

The committee arranging for the lawn fete to be given on Mackin's grounds reported progress and announced that many members were working hard for its success. More than usual interest was taken by the members in the excursion to Niagara Falls, and as a result more than 150 happy excursionists rolled away on Wednesday morning. Many of Mackin's leading members are in the party. The excursionists will arrive home Tuesday.

Supreme Delegate Robert T. Burke was given a royal reception and many congratulations, to all of which he responded in his usual modest manner. The next important event in Mackin will be the celebration of the birth of the council on Saturday, September 18, when all the members will approach holy communion in a body.

GRAND SUCCESS.

The annual outing for the benefit of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum was held on Wednesday, and was an unqualified success. The spacious grounds were thronged from early morning until late in the evening. Quite a nice sum was realized for this worthy charity.

CERTIFICATE FOR BISHOP.

Messrs. V. K. Ecker, James B. Kelly and Daniel J. Hennessy are the members of the committee selected by Trinity Council to present to Bishop O'Donoghue a certificate of life membership in the council. The certificate is handsomely framed.

REUNION

Of Catholic Knights of America Ought to Draw Large Crowd.

Mayors of Three Cities Invited to Be Guests of the Order.

Central Committee Working Hard to Make Event a Success.

SOME PROMINENT WORKERS

The annual midsummer outing of the Catholic Knights of America of the three Falls Cities will be held at Fontaine Ferry Park next Tuesday afternoon and evening. The two uniformed military companies and the seventeen branches will participate. Mayor Head of Louisville, Mayor Greene of New Albany, and Mayor Burke of Jeffersonville have been invited to be present. The reunion will be held under the auspices of Central Committee, of which Eugene McCarthy is President.

There are few residents of any of the three Falls Cities that do not know something about the Catholic Knights of America. The order was founded as the result of a plague of yellow fever that desolated the South about thirty years ago. Little by little the movement grew. Louisville was one of the first cities to take it up. For a time it prospered beyond measure, and then came troublous times. Death devastated the ranks; increased assessments were called for and dissension grew. With true Catholic spirit the leaders put their trust in the Lord and with abiding faith guided the bark back into less dangerous waters.

For some years past the Catholic Knights have been prospering, and the treasury is ample to meet present demands, but it is the earnest wish of all the members that the order should increase in numbers and in prosperity. To this end the Central Committee was established in Louisville. It serves a double purpose, inasmuch as it gives the seventeen branches and the two military companies a clearing house for business, and at the same time gives the members an opportunity to meet each other socially.

For several years past the Central Committee has given these summer outings and reunions. It has caused all branches to attend religious services which were preceded by street processions; it has given winter reunions and dramatic entertainments, and each successive event has added a little strength to the order in the Falls Cities.

This year Central Committee expects to make its reunion more attractive than ever.

Fontaine Ferry Park will be more than usually attractive according to the management and a special musical programme is promised.

The order is headed by Archbishop John J. Glennon, who is the spiritual adviser, and the entire American hierarchy indorses this society that provides for the widow and orphan. It has spent millions to protect those who would have been otherwise unprotected.

Among those on the Reception Committee for next Tuesday night will be Thomas Feely, P. J. Dowling, William Bennett, William Benedict, Newton G. Rogers, Major Gen. Michael Reichert, M. J. Burke, Henry F. Cassin, Gen. Joseph P. McGinn, William Coonan, John Gault, Nick Halloran, Capt. Gus Kane, D. X. Murphy, Dr. T. L. McDermott, W. J. Norton, Dave O'Connell, Rev. Father P. M. J. THE WHY

Sergt. Jerry Quill Remains Single and Keeps Smiling.

"It is curious, is it not, that Jerry Quill never married?" asked a friend of Lieut. Mike Rawley. "Jerry is now a Sergeant, fair, fat and forty, always smiling and good-natured, and I often wonder why some girl has not picked him up."

"I'll tell you a little story," said Lieut. Rawley in reply. "Sergt. Quill is a good and faithful policeman and an all-around good fellow and good citizen. He is not a woman hater by any means. Now don't publish what I am going to tell you in the Kentucky Irish American. Several years ago Jerry watched a beat in the business district where a floral establishment was located. Jerry was vigilant and attentive to duty. He had a girl friend, and the understanding was that they were to be married. One day she told him that the following day would be her birthday. He said he would send her a rose for every year of her life. He went to the florist's place and ordered eighteen roses. When the manager came in and found out who had ordered the flowers he told the assistant to put in a dozen more, so that Jerry's sweetheart got thirty roses instead of eighteen. That is why he never married. Instead she married another fellow, and is the mother of nine children, including two sets of twins. That is why Jerry always smiles."

SOUND ADVICE

Given Newsboys by Noted New Yorker and Politician.

"Big Tim" Sullivan took 6,000 of New York's newsboys to one of the theatres in that city last Saturday, and later gave them all they wanted to eat and drink. When called on for a speech the noted politician left his seat and said:

"My advice to every newsboy is never to drink anything intoxicating and never tell a lie. And when you're asked your papers day by day always keep one back. Read it and read it well, for it is better than all the libraries in the world. If you do that you will put yourself on an equal footing with the sons of millionaires who graduate from college."

"Big Tim" was vociferously cheered by the newsboys.

RECENT DEATHS.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jacob, whose little daughter, Catherine Marie, was called to heaven on Tuesday morning. The little one was seven years old. The funeral took place from St. Vincent de Paul church on Thursday morning. The child was a niece of John S. Martel, of New Albany.

Miss Charlotte Mary Stenger died at the family residence, 1502 Southgate street, early Monday morning, and her funeral took place from the Sacred Heart church on Wednesday morning. The deceased was sixteen years old and was beloved by all who knew her. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Isabella Stenger, and several sisters and brothers.

Mrs. Mary D. Scanlon, an old and respected resident of the West End, died at the family residence, 1837 Bank street, early Thursday morning. Death followed an attack of erysipelas. The deceased is survived by three children. They are Detective Dave Scanlon, Dennis Scanlon and Miss Mary Scanlon. Her funeral will take place from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock this morning. The deceased was born in Ireland nearly seventy years ago, but had lived in Louisville since she was a girl. All who knew Mrs. Scanlon admired her as a Christian woman and mother.

ASSUMES NEW DUTIES.

The Rev. Father Francis O'Connor, who recently celebrated his first high mass at St. John's church, has begun his ecclesiastical work as assistant pastor of St. Stephen's church at Owensboro. Father McDonnell, who has been pastor for twenty-five years, is in poor health. The assistance of Father O'Connor will be of much benefit to him.

SHEA—MALONEY.

Miss Imelda Shea and David J. Maloney will be united in marriage at St. Mary Magdalen's church at 6:30 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, August 31. The Rev. Father William Gausepohl will perform the ceremony. After a brief bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Maloney will begin housekeeping in Louisville. Miss Shea is an accomplished musician and has been much sought after socially. Mr. Maloney is a rising young business man and is well known in local musical circles.

ENGLISH

Friend of Home Rule Movement Passed Away in London.

Fifth Earl of Spencer Was Long a Leader of the Liberals.

Was Twice Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and Loved the Land.

MANY IRISHMEN ARE SORRY

The Right Honorable John Poyntz, fifth Earl of Spencer, died in London last Saturday as the result of old age and paralysis. Earl Spencer was in his day one of the Liberal leaders, an advocate of home rule for Ireland and openly fought for Ireland in many a debate in Parliament. His death is regretted by the people of Ireland, who regarded him as a friend.

Earl Spencer was seventy-six years old. He had been Lord Lieutenant of Northamptonshire since 1872; Chancellor of the Victoria University up to 1907, and graduated from Cambridge in 1857. In that same year he was sent to the House of Commons. He succeeded to the title upon the death of his father, the fourth Earl of Spencer, in the same year. In December, 1868, he was appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, during the administration of Gladstone from 1868-74, and again from 1882-85. During his tenure of office he became a strong advocate of home rule, and as recently as 1902, when the question was raised by Lord Rosebery, he declared that the abandonment of that feature of the Liberal programme would mean his withdrawal from politics.

On May 6, 1882, during Earl Spencer's second tenure of office as Viceroy of Ireland, Lord Frederick Cavendish, Chief Secretary, and Mr. Thomas Henry Burke, Under Secretary, were assassinated in Phoenix Park, Dublin. Earl Spencer, who had been expecting Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke to dinner on the night they were assassinated, was utterly prostrated by the news, but far from being daunted by the appalling state of affairs, he later expressed his determination to pursue a vigorous policy and root out the evil which had caused the desolation of the country.

After these terrible events it practically fell to Lord Spencer to administer the provisions of the crime act. In March, 1883, Earl Spencer resigned the office of Lord President of the Council, but still remained a member of the Cabinet until the close of Gladstone's administration, in June, 1885. On Gladstone's return to office, in February, 1886, Lord Spencer became for the second time Lord President of the Council. By this time he had adopted home rule opinions and his support was of great value to the Government, though the bill was never carried.

Earl Spencer was First Lord of the Admiralty in 1892-1895, and in 1902 was chosen the Liberal leader in the House of Lords.

In 1904 it was fully expected that there would be a dissolution of Parliament, and in that event the King Edward would have summoned Earl Spencer to form a Cabinet, but the storm blew over, and the Liberal party did not come into power. In his younger days Lord Spencer was popularly known as the "Red Earl," owing to the peculiar hue of his long and bushy beard. His half brother, the Right Honorable Charles Spencer, will succeed to the title.

UNION VETERAN DEAD.

The funeral of John Cusick, who died at his home, 1502 Bardstown road, on Friday last week, took place from St. James church on Sunday afternoon. He had been in ill health for several weeks and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Cusick was born in Ireland seventy-four years ago, but came to America when quite a youth. At the opening of the civil war he entered the Union army as a member of a New York regiment and served to the end. He was wounded in Gen. Grant's campaign at Richmond. After the war Mr. Cusick settled in Louisville. He is survived by his wife and by two nephews, Martin J. Cusick and Peter Cusick. For more than thirty years the deceased was connected with the firm of the McKnight Carpet Company. He was esteemed by all who knew him, and his death is mourned by many.

Archbishop Moeller, who arrived in New York last Tuesday, will reach Cincinnati on August 20, when the clergy and people of that city will tender him a united reception at the Cathedral. on Tuesday morning. She will henceforth be known as Sister Mary Helena. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by a number of local clergymen. The annual summer retreat for the Sisters of Mercy closed on Monday, the feast of the Assumption.

WILL GET RESULTS

Supreme Delegate Burke Ready to Start West.

Attorney Robert T. Burke will leave for San Francisco next Wednesday to attend the Supreme Council of the Young Men's Institute, which is to assemble in the Golden Gate City early in September. Mr. Burke will go as the official delegate of the Kentucky Grand Council. There is no doubt that he will make an able representative of Kentucky and that his efforts will be valuable to the local and State councils.

Mr. Burke is a rising young lawyer, yet always finds time to take an active part in Y. M. I. affairs. His evident interest caused him to be elected President of Mackin Council. In that capacity he proved his worth, and was made Grand President of the Kentucky Jurisdiction. Now upon his retirement from that office he has been given still higher honors in being chosen Supreme Delegate.

Both Mackin and Trinity Councils expect Robert to get results in Wisconsin.

ENTHUSED

Over Splendid Showing of Division 1, A. O. H.

The best of feeling prevailed at the meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., on Tuesday night, largely due to the fact that John Holden was off the sick list and Secretary Thomas Dolan was recovering, and that another application was received. The climax was reached when Chairman Keenan turned over the proceeds of last week's outing, which with that received from the County Board greatly swelled the division treasury.

Vice President William Murphy occupied the chair and announced that the sick list was again clear, and on behalf of the division expressed appreciation of the work of Chairman Keenan for the Irish-American day reunion.

County President P. J. Welsh was present and gave a succinct but interesting account of the proceedings of the national convention. The representatives from Kentucky were present at all the sessions, and through their efforts the South will hereafter receive greater recognition from the Ancient Order. After complimenting President Thomas Walsh for his assistance and encouragement the County President pointed out the necessity for attendance at County Board meetings and the observance of the precepts of the order. President Walsh, Secretary Lawler, Thomas Keenan and others made short talks, and all expressed the pleasure felt at the presence of the County Delegate and the splendid start made for the year.

VENERABLE WIDOW DEAD.

A great throng of old friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Nash, which took place from St. Cecilia's church last Saturday morning. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Goette, 414 North Twenty-second street, on Thursday afternoon of last week. The deceased was born in Ireland sixty-five years ago, but came to America when quite young. Nearly all her life had been spent in Louisville. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Mary Enright. Her husband, John Nash, died several years ago. Four sons and three daughters survive her. They are John, Richard, William and James Nash. Mrs. Clifford Goette, John Patrick Boyle and Mrs. John Green. Mrs. Nash was held in high esteem by all who knew her, and her death is generally mourned.

ROAD TO RECOVERY.

Patrick Regan, Superintendent of the American Ice and Storage Company, who was injured on Monday, is much improved. While directing some work at his plant a block of ice fell on his foot. He suffered a great deal of pain at the time, but will soon be back at his post.

AMERICAN

Pilgrims Hear Feeling Expression From His Holiness the Pope.

Their Faith Imparts Comfort to Head of Apostolic Church.

Many Knights of Columbus Made Pilgrimage and Visited Genoa.

WILL SEE EUROPEAN CITIES

The Right Rev. Bishop Van De Vyver, of Richmond, Va., last week presented a party of more than 200 American tourists to Pope Pius X. Monsignor Kennedy, Rector of the American College, Rome, assisted in presenting the Americans. The Bishop of Richmond addressed the Pope in Latin in behalf of the pilgrims. His Holiness replied in Italian, which was later translated for the benefit of the Americans. In part the Pope said:

"I thank you, venerable brother, for the sentiments with which in your name and in the name of your fellow citizens you expressed your lively faith and attachment to the Holy See, sentiments which can not but fill my heart with the greatest consolation and the liveliest comfort. Seeing my children who come from distant lands animated by the one spirit of the faith to venerate the tombs of the apostles and to pay homage to the vicar of Jesus Christ, that is such comfort that, however you may say you are the last called to the true religion, yet I seem to see in all of you, my beloved children, true signs of that faith which, while yet young, showed itself in the early days of the church when such as professed the Catholic faith met with the greatest troubles and offered willingly their blood and their lives. And I seem to see while older Europe, so often favored by the Lord with singular privileges, fails to recognize the blessings of heaven, the words of the Prophet fulfilled, 'The kingdom shall be taken from them and given to those more worthy.'"

"I thank you, then, for the comfort which you bring to my heart, and I feel the deepest thankfulness for the lively faith with which you are animated and of which you have given proof by your visits to the holy churches and by your sentiment of affection, which will be for me a source of great joy and a most meritorious work for the everlasting glory of the faith in our most holy religion."

"You are going to Oberammergau in the spirit of that faith. There, in that country, favored by the Lord with special graces, assisting at the fair of the holy spectacle, be sure you keep the faith bright in your hearts. Do not forget to pray to the Lord for him who is now speaking to you. The blessing which your Bishop asked for yourselves, your families and for all dear to you, may I find a great comfort to all."

Before the general audience members of the Knights of Columbus in the party were received by the Pope in the throne room, who thanked His Holiness for the gifts conferred by the Pope's councils of the order more than a year ago.

After the Papal audience the pilgrims were received by Cardinal Merry del Val, Secretary of State. On the following day, the seventh anniversary of the Pope's coronation, they attended mass in the famous Sistine chapel. The itinerary of the American pilgrims includes Oberammergau and the principal cities of the European continent, Rome, Ireland, Genoa, the birthplace of Columbus, and held a banquet there in honor of his memory.

HONOR FOR UNITY.

Unity Council, Y. M. I., of New Albany, held a rousing meeting this week and tendered a most cordial reception to James M. Ashabanner, the newly elected First Vice President of the Indiana Grand Council, and Fred C. Relaz and John Pontich, who were Unity's representatives at the Richmond convention. Mrs. Ashabanner had just completed his term as Second Vice President, and his election to the higher office is looked upon as an honor for both himself and Unity Council, now one of the strongest in the Indiana Jurisdiction.

FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

The Kentucky Irish American extends its best wishes to the Denver Catholic Register upon attaining its fifth birthday. Like many another Catholic journal, it has suffered from lack of advertising patronage, but this is daily increasing. At the same time the rapidly increasing Catholic population of Colorado is adding to the Register's roll of subscribers. The increased advertising will come in time. Long life and prosperity to our esteemed contemporary.

DEFEND YOUR FAITH.

Now more than ever does the world need the services of Catholic men and women who can intelligently and who will courageously, in public and in private, stand for the principles of the Catholic faith. The Catholic layman, by his example, can show the worth of spirituality to a world that is rapidly growing materialistic; the worth of principle to a people that rushes after riches and pleasure while forgetting or ignoring God.

He can show to his materialistic neighbors the strength of a man grounded in his faith, who knows whence he came, whither he aspires to go; whose universe has its sure beginning and end. He does not have to outbride his faith and religious practices on others offensively, but he should be able and willing to defend the faith that is in him at all times.

WOEFUL CONDITIONS.

The Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, always a plain speaker, has been saying some very plain things to the society people of England. At London recently he said:

"More words are powerless to express the thrill of horror which I feel, as a patriotic British subject, when I reflect upon the consequences to England of the ideas now in vogue among fast married people concerning married life. The very existence of love between husband and wife has become 'bad form,' while the 'great sacrament,' instituted by God himself, has become a mere question of convenience and personal expediency. Young persons about to enter upon the holy state of matrimony actually determine the number of children they will permit themselves to have, in much of the same business-like fashion as they settle how many servants they propose to keep. The future of England, the unborn generations that should inhabit this fair land of ours, are dependent upon such petty trifles as shall dress or a new motor."

Father Vaughan has said of the English and English society is equally true of America, but in this country race suicide is not confined to society circles. The warning of this plain-spoken Jesuit ought to be heard and heeded throughout the land. Hear him again:

"The claims of personal health, the claims of personal convenience, the claims of society, even the claims of Dame Fashion—all these things are put forward as sufficient to prove that it is the business of husband and wife, or both, or either, and not of their Creator, to settle the momentous question of the nursery and the number of children to be allowed in it."

"And what does this destructive philosophy of life really mean? We all know well enough that the empty cradle must eventually mean the empty home; but it means infinitely more than that. It means a demoralized and depopulated country, ripe for the hand of the invader. It means the fate of ancient Rome!"

ORANGEMEN SNUBBED.

Catholics rejoiced when the House of Commons eliminated objectionable language from the oath of accession of the King of England, but the Irish people more reason to rejoice than others. The editor of the Democrat says:

"Orange lodges have been for some weeks past for withdrawal or defeat of the bill annulling the oath of accession. In our eyes, we have no doubt, the claims of the English monarch and his loyalty and love was his link that all Papists were utterly false and damnable. The Kings of England swore allegiance to the laws of their country, the Orangemen no doubt felt justified in holding and giving effect to his own peculiar views as to the enormity of Popery. The humble member of the lodge could not be blamed if he imitated the had example of the monarch. The King said Popery was idolatrous. The Orangemen echoes 'to h—' with the Pope.' It was pretty much the same sentiment in different form of words.

The oath was drafted in the days when the English political party that used Protestantism as a weapon had routed the party of the later Stuarts, who were supposed to be Catholics, and who were backed by the Catholics amongst others. The oath, with all its infamies of verbiage, was designed to prevent any 'Papist in disguise' ever taking his seat on the English throne. It secured that the King should not only be a Protestant but should excommunicate and condemn 'Popery.' It marked and perpetuated the triumph of the Protestant party and the rout of the hated Stuarts and their Catholic supporters. It was quite in keeping with the spirit of intolerance that found expression in the penal laws. But it was as much out of harmony with the broader and more Christian views of our day as is the Orange order itself.

"A hundred years ago we had Catholic emancipation. The old disabilities of Catholics were supposed to be removed. 'Papists' could not alone practice their religion, but were actually allowed to hold property, to vote, to sit in Parliament on equal terms with Protestants. But the King of England was still required at his accession to the throne to swear that his Catholic subjects were idolaters and their most cherished religious beliefs no better than idol worship. When the late King Edward ascended the throne he had to swallow that disgraceful oath, and only the Irish members in Parliament protested against it. But the seed then sown has borne fruit. A bill removing the objectionable words has been passed through both houses by sweeping majorities. In future the King of England will be required by law to be a Protestant. He will not be asked to insult his Catholic subjects or revile sacred things."

"This has been done despite the thunder of the lodges. It is pleasant to reflect that it has been done by Protestants of both political parties, encouraged and applauded by liberal Protestants throughout Ireland and England—of whom we believe the members of County Louth Protestant Society were amongst the first. But it has been done against the insolent demand of the Orange Society, to which many members of Parliament have bowed, against their wishes. The lodges have got their answer. They have been shown what enlightened and tolerant men, in any age of toleration, think of the spirit that would fain bring back the penal days. English political parties have seen the sort of thing Orangism is, and they have shown their contempt for it. Why not judge for themselves also the home rule cause, of which the Orange party are the only real and avowed enemies in Ireland? Why not deal with that question also on its merits and disregard the idle vapors of the bogus loyalists? Orangism is only a nasty bogey with a drum in its inside."

Parents, have you made your arrangements for sending your children to Catholic schools? The educational year begins next month, and if your children are to become good men and women they must be given a Christian education. The parochial schools of Louisville are first class. If you want your children to take the more advanced courses you are not under the necessity of sending them out of the State. There are plenty of colleges, academies and commercial schools in Kentucky.

Junior Order boys and others who scoff at immigrants as lacking in intelligence wonder why Kentucky is not more prosperous. One reason is that we get an inconsiderable number of immigrants. They stay in New York, work there, make the city big and prosperous, and the latest Post-office statistics show they are sending home an average of $8,000,000 in money orders each month.

Montreal is to be favored above all other cities this year, inasmuch as it is to have the World's Eucharistic Congress. Men learned in the church, men devoted to honoring our Lord and Saviour in the Blessed Sacrament, are to assemble there for a week of prayer and devotion. Surely that city will be blessed. Let us hope that the day is not far distant when a similar honor will come to Louisville, "the cradle of Catholicity in the West."

A Minneapolis preacher complains that the bicycle and the automobile have diminished his congregation and now he fears that the advent of the airship is going to still further lessen the number of his flock. Why not trade the church in for a machine and join the bunch? He will not be the first preacher to go up in the air.

A combination of insurgent Republicans and Democrats in Congress will restore the country to prosperity. In that event, look for a Democratic President in 1912. The Kentucky Irish American takes great pleasure in nominating Hon. Judson Harmon for the Presidency.

With President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt at cross purposes in the Republican party, things look good for a Democratic victory in the fall.

HERALD AND POST

Trying to Start Religious War For Sake of Politics.

It is amusing to read in the Evening Post's daily abuse of the police about the perfect force of the Grinstead administration and how the police were promoted for long service, merit, etc. Take for instance the famous Capt. Luschinger, who was promoted from a shipping clerk's assistant on Main street to detective and then Captain, and Boone Jamison, who was promoted from a carpenter's bench to a Lieutenancy. As these two were not promoted for long service they must have shown their police efficiency in 'wrestling (sweat) boxes and making posts (for fences). But the prize promotion of all was the case of the noted Capt. Robert J. Foster, who after serving a term in the military penitentiary in California in 1902, came here and secured a position as night watchman at Belknap's and in 1908-1909 was a Police Captain under the Republican administration. Every one will have to concede that was not enough rapid promotion, inside of six years from convict to Police Captain. Another daily fallacy of the "new and true" sheet is that the police and firemen did not pay political assessments under the Grinstead administration. The very kids in the street knew that the police and firemen were driven to the Illinois Life building at Fifth and Market streets by their superiors and forced to contribute.

All fair-minded people are becoming disgusted at the attempts of the Post and Herald to start a religious war here by soliciting subscriptions from the A. P. A. societies and their following for Wendling, although at the same time neither deny that he is of the lowest character and guilty of continued immoral practices in the past. If Wendling is innocent he will be proven so in the fair trial which he is sure to get in the Criminal Court and not because of the money raised by skulking contributors who are afraid to have their names published, nor because of the efforts of the Herald and Post to inject politics in the case.

YOUNG LIFE CLOSED.

Great sympathy is being expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reichert, of 4200 West Broadway, whose daughter, Miss Ruth Reichert, died of typhoid fever on Friday of last week. The deceased was eighteen years old and was very popular among the younger set in the West End social circles. Miss Reichert was cultured and charming, and her parents are much distressed over her untimely death. She is also survived by a sister, Miss Lillian Reichert. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, and the numerous floral designs bore testimony to the esteem in which she was held.

PAST FOUR SCORE.

Mrs. Mary Carroll, who has conducted the Sherman House, Jeffersonville, for more than fifty years, celebrated her eighty-first birthday on Monday evening. A principal feature of the celebration was the family dinner, which brought together a son, a daughter, two brothers, several grandchildren and great grandchildren. The son is Capt. John E. Cole and the brothers were Capt. Michael A. and William Sweeney. Many friends called to extend congratulations and to wish her happy returns of the day.

Congratulations are pouring in from friends, and it is hard to tell which of the two, father or grandfather, smiles the most.

KEPT BUSY.
Central Committee Making Progress For C. K. of A.

President Eugene McCarthy presided over a busy session of the Central Committee, C. K. of A., at St. Mary's Hall, on Friday night of last week, at which the different branches and the two military companies were represented. William M. Higgins reported the programme for the reunion of the Catholic Knights that takes place Tuesday, August 23, at Fontaine Ferry Park, and upon motion invitations were extended Mayors Head, Burke and Greene to be present. An invitation to visit the encampment of the Uniform Rank was accepted. Announcement of the illness of Gen. Gus Kane was received with regret. William T. Meehan outlined plans for increasing the membership, after which Chairman John Schaidt called a meeting of the committee for Friday night. Newton G. Rogers was present and made suggestions that were appreciated by all present. Gen. Michael Reicher and Sergt. William Meehan told of their visit to the Catholic Knights of Chicago and the hearty reception tendered them. They were successful in their mission and found the best of feeling for the order on all sides. Following their report and the reading of correspondence, resolutions were adopted calling upon the Supreme officers to appoint a Deputy for this city and county, who will co-operate with the local Organization Committee.

STANDS HIGH
Humphrey O'Sullivan Loyal to Old and New Comrades.

Among the Catholics in America who have attained remarkable distinction in the business world is Humphrey O'Sullivan, of Lowell, Mass. This captain of industry is a printer, a Irishman and a Knight of Columbus. Mr. O'Sullivan was born in Ireland in 1855. Coming to New York at an early age he learned the printer's trade in that city, and still carries a card in Big Six. Some years ago he moved to Lowell, Mass., and engaged in the shoe business. He is the inventor of the rubber heel and the originator of the rubber heel industry. At present he is Treasurer of the O'Sullivan Rubber Heel Company, Treasurer of the O'Sullivan Brothers' Shoe Company and of the Morrissey Clothing Company, a director of the Lowell Trust Company. Besides he belongs to the Ancient Order of Irishmen, the Knights of Columbus, the B. P. O. Elks, the Knights of Brin, the Celtic Club, the Washington Club, the Veteran Firemen's Association, the Catholic Club of New York and the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York.

FOR WORTHY CHARITY.
Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 30 and 31, a lawn fete for the benefit of St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital will be given on the hospital grounds, Twelfth and Magnolia avenue. The Sisters of Charity of Nazareth are under a very heavy expense in building an addition to their already large building, and ask the public to encourage them by attending the coming fete. Many handsome and useful articles are to be disposed of.

SHERIDAN RETURNS.
J. F. Sheridan, a former well known resident of New Albany, but for some time past Division Superintendent of the Maine Central railroad at Portland, has returned to accept the position of Chief Train Dispatcher of the Louisville division of the Southern railroad. His family returned with him, and their many friends were glad to welcome them back to their old home. Mr. Sheridan is regarded as one of the most competent railroad men in this section of the country.

LORETTA'S GREAT DAY.
Thirty-five young ladies took various steps in the novitiate at Loretto on Monday. The mass was celebrated by the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., who went as the Bishop's representative, because Bishop O'Donoghue celebrated the Pontifical mass at the Cathedral that morning. Several of the young ladies were just entering the novitiate, others received the habit, and others still took their final vows.

HARKINS' OPENING.
Jack Harkins will have a grand opening celebration at his cafe on the northwest corner of Eleventh and Broadway next Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be music and a fine lunch on both days. He has invited hundreds of friends and expects to make his cafe the most popular emporium in that section of the city.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL.
Branch 32, C. K. of A., more familiarly known as St. Vincent de Paul Branch, will give an ice cream festival at Ziegler's Park on Monday evening. In the event of rain the festival will be postponed until the following evening. Tickets of admission and including ice cream are only fifteen cents. Dancing will be free. The park is on the Shelby-street car line.

SISTERS TRANSFERRED.
Sister Constance has been transferred from the Academy Immaculata, Newport, to other duties in Louisville, and Sister Cecilia, of this city, will assume charge of the academy in Newport.

The Christian church, said to be firmly believed the great agency for the unification of Christendom was the Roman Catholic church. No other church had the outlook, machinery, tradition, wealth and ability to bring together all the forces of Christendom. It was a strange thing to say in a Protestant union, but the secret lay there.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

The grand total of the mortuary fund is now over $3,000,000.

Louisville Council's next initiation will occur on the first Sunday in October, and as the class will be a large one it is urged that applications be presented as soon as possible.

The St. Louis Choral Club made a great hit at Quebec and Buffalo, and the Blount City Knights may soon arrange another opportunity for again hearing that truly great organization.

Preparatory for the great ending day celebration, which will be held October 12, the Chicago Chapter has arranged for a three days' retreat for members next month. Owing to the large membership the spiritual exercises will be held in three sections of the city.

It is stated that the Milwaukee councils have purchased the magnificent Johnston property at Fifteenth and Grand avenue, the price being under $50,000. The stone residence thereon cost $90,000, and when remodeled will equal any K. of C. club house in the country.

WEEK AT CLIFF HAVEN.
This was the eighth week of the season of the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven, N. Y. It is popularly known as children's week, and the youngsters certainly enjoyed a great time. The chief event was the open air procession on Monday, the feast of the Assumption. It was the seventh annual procession on Assumption day, but surpassed all previous efforts. After marching around the grounds all knelt at a rustic shrine for benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Rev. Father Louis O'Hern, C. S. P., of Winchester, Tenn., preached an appropriate sermon.

FONTAINE FERRY PARK.
Another good vaudeville bill and excellent open air concert are promised at Fontaine Ferry Park next week. This popular resort continues to grow in favor. A feature next week that promises to attract a big crowd will be the annual midsummer reunion of the Catholic Knights of America. All the usual attractions will be provided, and special music will be rendered for the Knights.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.
Brighter tints are predicted for the coming season. Veils are less aggressive than they have been heretofore. Suitings for fall lean strongly toward the mannish effect. Organdies are more modish than they have been for years. Wings are placed upright on both large and small hats. Coat sleeves are long and plain and rather close fitting. Velvet and velveteen promise to be extremely popular fabrics. The smaller the hat the larger the algrette or plume seems to be the rule.

Clouds of maline continue to frame fair throats, especially in dance costumes. Belts, hags and shoes are at the height of elegance when matched with the toilet. India rubber beads are quite new and consist of hollow tubes simulating dull hedges. White linen hats embroidered with white or gold are among the fancies of the hour. The turnback cuffs—French cuffs—on lingerie shirts seem to be losing favor with men. Checkered gauzes in white and black are stylish, the foundation matching one of the checks.

VERY TRUE.
The Catholic who sets a good example preaches a perpetual mission.

CROAGH PATRICK
Thousands of Irish Pilgrims Braved Inclement Weather.

More than 30,000 persons took part in the annual pilgrimage to the holy mountain of St. Patrick, or Croagh Patrick, as it is called. Although the weather was anything but inviting the pilgrims were not deterred, many of them spending the night on the mountain side in order to get an early start next day. The mountain presented a magnificent spectacle. It was crowded in every part, and one of the largest congregations that has ever listened to a sermon gathered to hear the distinguished Augustinian preacher, Father M. A. McGrath, who journeyed from Rome to preach the sermon. Archbishop Healy, of Tuam, in behalf of the pilgrims, sent the following cable message to Pope Pius X.: "To Cardinal Merry Del Val, the Vatican, Rome: The Archbishop of Tuam, with the priests and people from all parts of Ireland and from many other countries assembled in the pilgrimage on Croagh Patrick Mountain, send to the Holy Father Pius X. the same greetings which St. Patrick himself from this same spot sent to Leo the Great, an expression of undying loyalty and affection for his person and his throne, and prostrate on our knees we humbly beg his apostolic benediction."

DOUBLE-HEADER
Opens Series Between Colonels and Kansas City Tomorrow.

Joe Cantillon's Minneapolis team will play their last game here with the Colonels today, and a big Saturday crowd is expected to see the leaders, who at present seem to be sure pennant winners, bring the first time that Minneapolis won the pennant flag since the organization of the present American Association, although they have been close contenders during the past three seasons. Another team which has made their best showing this season is Kansas City, who will be here tomorrow and open the series with a double header.

Our locals still have a chance to get out of the despised last place before the season closes, as they have a long stretch of games at home. Indianapolis, Columbus and Milwaukee being scheduled, and from whom the Colonels should win a majority. Kansas City will have their star first baseman in the lineup and this is his last season in the association, having been purchased by Pittsburgh, where he will replace Flynn, the best man Pittsburgh has had in years, but who will be removed because of the jealousy of Wagner and Miller. Good critics say Flynn's batting kept Pittsburgh in the race.

LOST TO ATHLETICS.

From New York comes the announcement that Martin Sheridan, the Irish-American Club's all-round champion, has under consideration a very liberal business offer from a Western concern and is considering accepting it. This would mean his retirement from athletics after the present season. The departure of John J. Flanagan, the Irish-American Athletic Club's hammer thrower, who has resigned from the New York police force and who will remove to Toronto, Canada, will leave another gap in the ranks of metropolitan athletes.

CONSECRATION DATE.
The Right Rev. Joseph Chartrand, the Coadjutor Bishop-elect of Indianapolis, will be consecrated in the Cathedral at Indianapolis on September 15. The Most Rev. Monsignor Falconio, the Papal Delegate, will officiate at the consecration, and will be assisted by Bishop O'Donoghue, of Louisville, and Bishop Alerding, of Fort Wayne. The Knights of Columbus will give Bishop Chartrand a reception in the evening.

XAVERIANS IN CHARGE.
When St. Patrick's parochial school opens next month the Xaverian Brothers will assume charge of the boys' department. The Xaverians taught the boys at St. Patrick's for many years and until the late Father Gambon was made pastor. Father Cronin desires to make his school for boys second to none in the city.

RIVERVIEW.
Riverview Park, with its many novelties and addition of something new each week, is prospering more than at any time since its gates were opened to Louisville crowds. Something is going on all the time and the band and vocal soloists give two free concerts each day. More swimmers are being added to the pool, where large crowds are attracted.

ST. ELIZABETH'S LAWN FETE.
The people of St. Elizabeth of Hungary parish have arranged to give a lawn fete on the church lawn on the afternoon and evening of Monday and Tuesday, August 29 and 30. Many handsome articles will be disposed of and numerous amusements provided. The admission will be only ten cents.

ST. GEORGE'S BAZAR.
Preparations are in progress for a grand bazar to be given for the benefit of St. George's church in the new church building, Eighteenth street and Magnolia, before its dedication. The bazar will be held September 5 to 10 inclusive. Rev. Father George A. Weiss, pastor of St. George's church, expects his friends all over the city to attend on one or more days.
